Description

Non Hung Primary School is located in the Atspangthong District in Savannakhet Province in South Laos. The local community is predominantly from Phu Tai ethnicity and earns their income from farming and animal husbandry. Non Hung Primary School opened in 1984 and offers complete primary level education since 2006. At present, 109 students are enrolled in the primary school. Students who finish primary education follow classes in the neighboring Na Lai School in Na Lai Dong village. Child's Dream is currently also supporting Na Lai Secondary school with the construction of eight new classrooms (two buildings), and the renovation of an existing school building. Non Hung Primary School has currently one rotten building with four classrooms. The poorly constructed four classroom building is made out of wood and zinc roof. During the hot season, the classrooms become unbearably hot and dusty, and during the rainy season they offer inadequate protection against the rain. The classrooms are separated with woven bamboo sheets and wooden planks, creating a chaotic and uncondusive learning environment for the school children. These conditions make it extremely hard for the students of Non Hung Primary School to concentrate and benefit from a proper education. Recently, the community has started building a six classroom building, but due to sufficient funding the construction has been stopped. To ensure a safe and condusive learning environment for the school children, Child's Dream will support Non Hung Primary School to complete the construction of the halted school building. The new school building will emphasize the importance of education to the community and provide an incentive for the children and youth to complete primary school education.

Implementation

In order to improve the currently insufficient and dangerous situation, we will complete the new building structure and provide Non Hung Primary School with a brand new school building, containing six classrooms. The Laotian Government is responsible for the teachers' salaries and the provision of learning materials. As with all our projects, we will seek to involve the local community in the construction process as much as possible. The villagers of Baan Non Hung laid the foundation and constructed the concrete frame. They will offer further assistance in the form of unskilled labour. We will select a trusted local contractor to coordinate all phases of construction and to purchase materials in the local community. The contractor will be paid in four instalments based on the construction progress, with 5% of the total labour cost held back for one year as a guarantee for the quality of the work. The Laotian Government and the local community will be responsible for the school building once the construction is completed. We consider this project as low risk, although transportation of building materials during the rainy season might cause some issues and effect the completion date. Construction is due to start in August 2016 and expected to be completed by February 2017.
